MM Meeting Destinations Certified as a Woman Business Enterprise

MM Meeting Destinations, Inc. has been certified as a business owned and controlled by a woman by the National Women Business Owners Corporation (NWBOC). This prestigious certification increases the ability of women business owners to compete for contracts at a national level and creates opportunities for future partnerships with public and private companies.

“NWBOC increases the ability of women business owners to compete for corporate and government contracts,” says Ginger Hubner, co-owner of MM Meeting Destinations. “As a nationally recognized non-profit, the National Association of Women Business Owners promotes the benefits of contracting with women suppliers in both the public and the private sectors. Through this rigorous certification process, we have gained a powerful and unique partnership which will allow our company to expand its scope of services at the national and international levels.”

MM Meeting Destinations, which has served the meeting and travel industry since 1995, is co-owned by Ginger Hubner and Jan Brewer. They bring a combined fifty-one years of experience in the travel industry. Their company provides travel and hospitality expertise, enhanced by their ability to work anywhere in the world through their web-based company, www.resortmarketing.com.

“We combine the experience, reputation, and supplier contacts of a large national corporation with integrity, dedication, and the personal touch of the company next door. Our certification through the National Association of Women Business Owners allows us to expand our professional presence in the meeting and travel industry,” says Jan Brewer, co-owner.
